Dismiss Charges Against Congressman

CLEAR HILL IN LIQUOR TEST CASE

Jury States Congressman Had Right to Make Wine and Cider

FIND DEFENDANT IS "NOT GUILTY"

Authorities Will Continue Prosecutions, on Volstead Law

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 13.—Manufacturer of wines and cider of ordinary alcoholic content in private homes is permissible, a jury in United States district court here decided today.

The jury dismissed all counts of the indictment against Representative John Phillip Hill of Maryland who had charged him with unlawful manufacture of 11.64 per cent wine and 2.7 per cent cider in his home.

Hill provoked the trial to test the power of the Volstead act over home brewing.

The jury reported to Judge Morris A. Soper after 20 hours of deliberation that it had found Hill, the defendant, not guilty on each of the six counts in the indictment against him.

The counts of the indictment had charged Hill specifically with manufacture and possession of intoxicants and with creating a public nuisance by having intoxicants in his home.

The exact wording of the dismissed was:

"We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty of the matter of which he stands indicted."

Judge Soper, in charging the jury, told them that their verdict must be considered as passing on the question of whether the beverage manufactured by Hill was intoxicating. He said the issue of intoxication must be decided on the question of whether or not "a practical amount" consumed by any man would "produce drunkenness."

Hill, who has long been opposed to the prohibition laws, shouted with glee when the verdict was returned.

"Well, boys, you can make all the wine you want now," he said. "I always did have faith in the common sense of these Maryland juries."

WILL PROSECUTE HOME-BREWERS STILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The Federal prohibition enforcement authorities will prosecute all cases of home brewing as strictly as before the Hill case, Judge James A. Eritt, general counsel of the prohibition unit, declared here today.

"We emphatically disagree with the verdict in the Hill case," said Eritt, "and we propose to go right ahead with prosecutions in similar cases."

DESIGNATES CASE AS "PURE POLITICS"

GRANITE FALLS, Minn., Nov. 13.—"Representative Hill is a politician and this whole case is politics, pure and simple," Andrew J. Volstead, "father of prohibition" said in his law office here today.

"It was the purpose of this case to make the prohibition law appear ridiculous," said Volstead.

"I don't think it was the intention of the drafters of the Volstead act to limit home made fruit juices to the standard of one-half of one per cent of alcohol."

"30" BULLETINS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 13.—The bodies of Louis Rosen, 29, Cleveland, and his brother-in-law, Adolph Adelson, Philadelphia, were found punctured with bullet holes in Rosen's garage here today.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 12.—A. B. Hendrick of Lafayette, Ind., president of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers, was chosen today to head the building trades movement of the country by the convention of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor in convention here.

William J. Spencer, who has served as secretary-treasurer of the department for the last eight years, was succeeded by William Tracy of Philadelphia, a member of the plumbmen's union.

Super Plane Is Made To Guard Coast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—A super airplane, capable of flying 2500 miles in a single hop at a speed in excess of 100 miles an hour is to be built for the United States navy by the Boeing Aircraft corporation of Seattle, Wash., the navy department announced today.

When completed, its first attempted flight will be between a Pacific Coast port and the Hawaiian Islands. If the plane comes up to expectations, it will go a long way toward solving the problems of American coast defense.

Detectives In Los Angeles Murder Admit They've Reached Stone Wall

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Search for "Stan the Bouncer" and "Rose the Wop," wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of Harry I. Katz, turned back to this city today when police announced they are certain the two are in hiding here.

Arrest of the couple was expected momentarily as squads of detectives rushed from Central Station to haunts of the alleged extortionists' claimed to have obtained large sums of money from Katz through blackmail.

Early reports on the two indicated they had fled toward the Mexican border but late tips indicate they are still in the city, it was said.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—The murder of Harry I. Katz, musician, diamond broker and man of many friends but few intimates, today approached the realm of unsolved mysteries as clews by which it was hoped to apprehend the slayer proved fruitless.

With the release of Hal Hail, latest suspect to be arrested in connection with the case, detectives admitted they have little left to work on. Every possible angle of Katz' unusual life has been sifted and the murderer is still unknown.

Just at nightfall last Monday Katz was called to the door of his richly furnished quarters in the Ambassador Apartments, which he owned and shot to death by a "ruddy faced" gunman, who fled and made good his escape.

The vocalist has won a delighted following in this city upon her previous appearances and was guest artist at a number of the open-air concerts given at Birch Park during the summer by the Municipal band. Mr. Fraser's ability as a pianist is too well-known to need comment.

Members of the orchestra who will co-operate to present a program of unusually enjoyable numbers, include F. Enrich, B. O. Baird, Hal Barker, Lionel Barker, Jeroe Bauer, Merrill Bauer, J. W. Bastea, Mrs. Joe Bastea, J. W. Beach, Edward Burns, Loren Cannon, O. Cianfon, Lillian Confer, J. M. Durgan, George Furtach, Emily Faulkner, Irving German, William Godwin, M. R. Howells, Dr. H. Hoffman, Dorothy Hurd, William Jennings, D. Kelley, Jack Langley, Everett Lutz, Helen Lutz, O. E. Matthews, H. E. Matthews, J. M. Ramirez, L. J. Roberts, E. Rodriguez, George Schiff, Louise Shaw, V. C. Shippe, Virginia Slade, E. C. Thompson, Frances Van Nest, Georgia Belle Walton, James Workman, Walter Wray, Thomas Wright, Marion Young, H. W. Fraser, Don Rizzi, W. H. Trusdall, G. H. Tuttle.

Miss Dorothy Carroll, weeping in her apartment, was the one to whom Katz was really devoted, she said. "We were engaged. He gave me two diamonds to bind our engagement although we had never set the date for our wedding."

"Of course he had other friends, many of them women, but I know I was the only one he loved. His regard for others was merely a desire for companionship."

The one theory upon which the police are basing further hopes of apprehending the slayer is blackmail. A "big red haired man" and a "pretty 19-year old blackmailer" were forcing him to pay heavy tribute, according to H. F. Glazer, claim adjuster for an automobile club, who knew Katz intimately.

"Katz tried to slip away from these two a year ago," Glazer told police. "Later he said they had found him again."

The couple, police believe, slipped from the city yesterday and headed for San Diego and the Mexican border. Police of the southern city were asked to watch for them.

Both the "red haired man" and the girl have police records here and are known to San Diego authorities, detectives stated.

Additional safety deposit boxes held by Katz in downtown banks were to be opened today. One was broken into yesterday and diamonds valued at $6,000 found there.

Papers were also discovered, the contents of which detectives did not reveal.

Hail's release from any connection in the case came last night after police questioned him at length regarding his acquaintance with Katz. Hail was the last man to talk with the diamond broker before his murder and suspicion pointed strongly in his direction until he proved he left the apartment some 45 minutes before the slaying.

Reports that Katz was so engaged were investigated by special agents as long ago as last June and one stone, a $2500 emerald, was seized from his safe deposit box. Katz proved, however, that he came into possession of the stone legally, and did not know it had been smuggled into the country by a previous owner.

On other occasions, it was said, Katz records were examined and every stone in which he dealt found to be of legal origin and brought into the country through regular channels.

Support Needed For Chest Says Zerman

Much can be accomplished for Santa Ana, as our industrial growth continues, by the Community Chest plan.

First: By constructive and well-guided welfare work, through the inspection of the agencies who enter the Community Chest plan.

Second: By creating a larger number of givers as has been the experience in other cities where the Chest plan has been put into effect—thereby reducing the burden of a few givers.

Third: It is a modern and business-like way of handling this matter; saving time for the team workers and preventing overlapping of charity works.

Compared with the amount per capita of other cities, the amount set for our drive should go over in fine shape—if everybody will become interested and do what they can.

HARBOR COMMISSIONERS URGE SUPERVISORS TAKE EARLY TIDELAND ACTION

Unified control, either city or county, of the Newport harbor, a bond issue for a million or more dollars immediately to go ahead with improvement work and the solid support of all organizations and citizens of Orange county was the keynote of insistence sounded at the reorganization meeting of the Newport chamber of commerce last night.

Officers elected to serve the body of harbor frontage. However, long delayed action on the part of the supervisors in the matter of the suit is held to be giving rise to the belief in many quarters that private enterprise is probably stronger than should be in the matter of politics, to the detriment of county interests inasmuch as it is a well established fact that fortunes are at stake over the question of tide-line measurements.

Direct action by the county supervisors will establish this measurement through the courts and throw a balance of land, estimated at a possible 50 acres, one way or another.

Mr. Lake, chairman of the Newport harbor commission, last night said that the county board of supervisors could give no plausible excuse for the long delay in starting friendly suit to determine just how much tide-water was owned by the county and how much by private interests.

Agree to Press Legal Action. However, according to Mr. Lake, insistence on the part of the harbor commission that further dallying be stopped and direct and swift action in the matter of the suit to be taken elicited from the supervisors an agreement to go ahead in the matter and a report is to be submitted at the next meeting.

At the present time a survey shows the county to own 350 acres.

AUTO COLLISION

IS CRUX OF SUIT

Did two cars who passed on the state highway near Fullerton September 16, 1923, actually collide, and if they did, which driver was at fault?

That was the question Superior Judge F. C. Drum today was called on to decide at the trial of a suit for $16,000 damages brought by Mr. and Mrs. John Frollick, of Los Angeles, against Mr. and Mrs. Olin M. Cargay of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Frollick was severely injured when the Frollick car overturned at the time of the accident. Her daughter, Agnes, was driving the car. The Frollick complaint charges that Mrs. Cargay was driving the Cargay machine and passed the Frollick machine from the rear, cutting in so closely in front that the front wheel of the Frollick car was struck. It was alleged, caused the wreck.

The recent rains and the early completion of the Long Beach steam plant mark the end of the power shortage which existed during the past season and the indications of large business increases and general prosperity had a bearing with the directors upon passing this large budget for the ensuing year. While District Manager Deimling has not yet been advised of the amount that his recommendations have been given very full and liberal consideration.

The twenty-five million dollar budget for 1925 will be expended on the following general lines:

For hydro electric development on the Big Creek-San Joaquin river project ..... $ 7,535,000

For completion of steam plants now under construction ..... 3,965,000

For increasing the 220,000 volt transmission facilities between Big Creek and Southern California ..... 1,500,000

For extension of distribution system and betterments in this and other districts ..... 12,000,000

The Florence Lake tunnel which will cost when completed approximately seventeen million dollars, will be finished early in March and the construction program on the Big Creek-San Joaquin river project will increase the water power generating capacity during the ensuing year by fifty-five thousand horsepower which will bring the total generating capacity of the company in water and steam up to six hundred and eighty-seven thousand horsepower, including the new one hundred and twenty-seven thousand horsepower steam plant, in time to carry the expected increase in business for next year.

While the company spent about thirty million dollars last year in new construction, approximately ten million dollars were spent for the steam power construction which was speeded up at an enormous rate to relieve the water power shortage which existed.

With the steam plant at Long Beach nearly completed and the work at that place very nearly taken care of by the 1924 budget, this year's appropriation will provide largely for hydro electric development.

The expenditures of the company for 1924 and 1925, which will aggregate fifty-five million dollars, will make a repetition of the shortage conditions of the year of 1924 impossible, so far as service on the system of the Southern California Edison company is concerned.

Attorney John Clarkson presented the applications of the defendants for probation and the court fixed the time of hearing for Friday, November 21.

The two Mexicans were charged with entering the jewelry store of M. A. Stalmer, at Fullerton.

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat, write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Dept. R. 4.—Adv.

S. A. PIONEER PHYSICIAN IS TAKEN QUICKLY

Santa Ana today mourned the loss of another of its popular pioneer residents, Dr. Willella Howe-Waffle, who died suddenly late yesterday afternoon while engaged in professional work at the Santa Ana Valley Hospital.

The pioneer women physician was stricken in death at a moment when she was assisting in ushering another life into this world, and she crumpled at the side of the bed where she was aiding the stork in brightening a Santa Ana home.

Funeral Saturday

Funeral services will be held at the Church of the Messiah at 10 a.m., Saturday, with the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, pastor, officiating. Private interment in Fairhaven cemetery will follow the services.

Dr. Waffle last month celebrated her seventieth birthday anniversary.

Beloved by hosts of Santa Ana men, women and children, Dr. Waffle was held in the very highest esteem by the entire community.

The physician had been in her usual good health and her sudden death came as a great shock to her family and to the community.

Faithful to her profession and interested in her patients, the physician had followed her activity here continuously for forty-four years without vacations and her sudden collapse was attributed by friends today as partly due to overwork.

Born in Virginia 70 years ago, Mrs. Waffle came to California with her parents in 1854, locating at San Francisco. Following her marriage she came to Westminster approximately 46 years ago, where she first took up the study of medicine. It is said that in addition to performing her household duties while living in that community, she would hold one of her children in one hand and a book in the other, studying and preparing herself for the profession that she later followed. Her medical education was finished in a college at Chicago.

She was the first woman physician in California and fought her way here and in Southern California into prominence as a homeopathic physician.

Her life in Santa Ana was featured by her great charity and her absolute devotion to the poor who needed her skillful treatment—services performed when she was fully aware that she never could expect compensation, except that derived from the satisfaction of knowing that she was relieving distress and was a benefactor. It is said that in addition to administering to the sick in poor homes, she frequently would clean up a home and put in order a house she found in disorder and with the mother of the home sick.

In recent years her heart was centered in the establishment of a maternity ward in the local hospital, and in this she was successful. In the recent efforts to secure for Santa Ana a modern hospital plant, Dr. Waffle had worked incessantly for establishment of a maternity ward in the new plant.

A lover of flowers and birds, the physician had maintained at her home for years, beautiful flower gardens and an aviary. Flowers from her home have been used in the decoration of many homes and as decorations for many public gatherings.

There are in Santa Ana today hundreds of men and women who were ushered into this world by the loved woman whose wholesome life suddenly terminated while she was pursuing the profession that had won for her distinction and the love of scores of persons.

Burglary Charge Admitted in Court

Changing tactics at the last moment, Robert Ruiz, 18, and Jesus Cano, 22, today abandoned their defense against a charge of second degree burglary and entered pleas of guilty in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court. Their trial has been scheduled for 10 a.m. today.

Attorney John Clarkson presented the applications of the defendants for probation and the court fixed the time of hearing for Friday, November 21.

The two Mexicans were charged with entering the jewelry store of M. A. Stalmer, at Fullerton.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

OWN TWO OR THREE OVERCOATS

What is the difference between possessing the wardrobe of a gentleman and merely owning cloths? A wardrobe is a complete collection of articles of wear, from undersuits to overcoats and from hats to shoes. It meets the obligation of every occasion—business, sport and formal function. It permits frequent and agreeable variations of effect, so that dressing is not a perfunctory process, but, by virtue of the charm of change, keeps a man closely and clothelessly interested in his own appearance, fastidious about it, careful of it.

If you wear the same suit or overcoat every day, then dressing for the day is a mere mechanical motion,
like brushing your hair. You know
exactly how it's going to look and, so,
you hardly look. You could almost dress blindfolded or in the dark. Moreover, the lack of adequate wardrobe
makes a man reluctant to glance
over his clothes for telltale signs
of wear; for shiny sleeves or frayed
edges. Often, he is unaware of such things until they are pointedly and disagreeably brought to his attention by others.

Can a man be well-dressed with one overcoat? Impossible! He should own at least two and, preferably, three, because the type of loose-draping, knockabout garment which is correct for day wear is incorrect for the evening, which prescribes a form-fitting coat of dark-colored material. Furthermore, a velvet-collar overcoat belongs in a very well-rounded wardrobe in addition to a medium-weight and a heavy-weight garment for different degrees of weather.

The overcoat, pictured in the accompanying sketch, is a military model internationally known as the "Guard" and named after a noted English regiment. It is not a new style, but it has preserved its vogue remarkably due, perhaps, to the sponsorship of the Prince of Wales and his set.

The characteristic features of the "Guard" are the half-belted back with an inverted pleat down the center and short side pleats extending above and below the belt. It is a 3-button; double-breasted; storm-collared; flap-pocketed; half-lined and about 45 inches long. The half belt makes it quite waisty and lends a sort of soldierly swank and trimness.

WOMEN PROVE
GOOD WORKERS
IN CHEST DRIVE

"Who says women are not good solicitors?" demanded John Estes of his fellow-workers at Community Chest headquarters
this morning.

"Everybody admits that a woman
can out-talk a man anytime, anywhere, especially if she's good-looking," the division manager continued, "and with all of the beauties who are members of churches and women's clubs here,
it seems to me that we could select a women's team that would beat all of the men's teams in securing donations for Santa Ana's $30,000 Community Chest."

Estes then outlined a plan which met with the unanimous approval of the other division managers and officials of the campaign which is to be launched here next Monday.

The plan provides for a woman's team to consist of representatives of Santa Ana churches and women's clubs.

"And I'll bet two to one that they'll get more money than any two teams of men," Estes declared.

All women who will volunteer their services either for part time or full time during next week's Community Chest drive, are urged to telephone 4035W or to call at room 219 Spurgeon building.

John Estes promises to assist the women's team in "landing" big donations, as this team will be in his division and he says his division will lead all others.

News Briefs

Street improvements in various parts of the city are progressing rapidly, according to City Engineer
W. G. Knox. Russell avenue,
South Broadway and South Sycamore street today were open to traffic after having been paved with asphalt five inches thick. Officials of the Kennedy Construction company yesterday signed a contract for laying asphalt to a depth of five inches on Lacy street from Wellington avenue to Washington avenue, and on Wellington from French street to Poinsettia street.
Workmen today were hauling implements to these thoroughfares so that construction work may be started immediately.

Plans were completed early today for a dinner to be given this evening at 7 o'clock at the American Legion home on Birch street, at which time Burton Fitts, deputy district attorney of Los Angeles, will speak to ex-service men. Fitts was formerly state commander of the California and is well known here. Approximately 300 members of the Legion from all parts of the county are expected to attend.

Pastors and Sunday school teachers of Lutheran churches of Southern California closed yesterday an interesting convention of three days
held in Trinity Lutheran church, 816 Brown street, of which the Rev. Wm. Schmoock is pastor.
The six sessions of the convention were attended by twenty-eight ministers and ten teachers, who enjoyed the hospitality of Trinity congregation. A favorable opinion of Santa Ana was expressed by the visitors.

Paul McClelland, Guy Penn and James Coulston left yesterday in Guy Penn's automobile for a week's trip to San Francisco and Portland.

City Councilman E. B. Collier and Mrs. Collier left today for San Francisco where they will visit their daughter, Sister Benedict of St. Joseph's Order, and friends and relatives in Sacramento. They are making the trip by auto and expect to be gone about two weeks.

from citrus groves. The demonstration was held following a call for such a meeting, by a number of growers whose groves have been damaged this year by gophers and diseases. Specimens of damaged trees were shown, and ways and means of barring the gophers from fields and groves were explained.

Three motorists today had paid fines to City Recorder W. F.
Heathman. William L. Harker of Los Angeles was assessed $15 for speeding 30 miles an hour on North Main street. Romaldo Picazco was taxed $5 for driving through the city at night with only one headlight. F. J. Her-shiser handed the recorder $3 for parking his automobile within 15 feet of a fire hydrant.

Twenty-seven men and women of Santa Ana were preparing to leave tonight or early in the morning by automobile and by train for Santa Barbara to attend the district convention of Kiwanis clubs. The men are going as delegates and the women as guests. Members of the delegation who had given consideration to making the trip to the convention by bus changed their plans and arranged to go by train. Some of those going by automobile would depart late this afternoon.

If you wear the same suit or over-
coat every day, then dressing for the
day is a mere mechanical motion,
like brushing your hair. You know
exactly how it's going to look and, so,
you hardly look. You could almost dress blindfolded or in the dark. More-
over, the lack of adequate wardrobe
makes a man reluctant to glance
over his clothes for telltale signs
of wear; for shiny sleeves or frayed
edges. Often, he is unaware of such things until they are pointedly and disagreeably brought to his attention by others.

ASKS FOR JAIL

LOCAL MAN IS OPTIMISTIC AT COPPER YIELD

A. M. McDermott of Santa Ana,
General Manager of the El Fuerte
Mining and Smelting company, who was recently elected to the Presidency of that organization is extremely optimistic relative to the future of the copper mining industry in this country and Mexico.

The importance of the industry to present day needs was emphasized in a statement made recently by Mr. McDermott.

The inevitable development of hydro-electric projects will mean a big increase in the consumption of copper that few realize. That this is an electrical age cannot be denied and copper is the important factor that makes our great electrical developments possible.
The Radio industry alone will consume vast quantities of the metal.
The electrification of the railroads will call for many millions of pounds and to these three industries dozens of others could be added that will send the demand for copper away above the past requirements.

The European market for copper must be considered in any discussion of the copper situation.
Europe is short of this metal and the demand for export will naturally have a considerable effect on the American market.

During a recent trip to the West coast of Mexico I found the copper producers of that highly mineralized section planning more extensive developments than ever before. This is largely due, of course, to the present demand for copper but considerable of this activity is also due to the excellent internal conditions in Mexico.
Everywhere one meets with the county library in the hall of records here is in need of a collection of parade photographs, according to Miss Margaret Livingston, librarian, who today appealed to the public for snapshots of decorated floats.

Miss Livingston is especially anxious to receive pictures of the Armistice Day parade at Huntington Beach. Photographs of costumed marchers of this and other pageants also are desired.

The county library often is visited by persons who wish suggestive material for parades and similar events," the librarian explained,
"and it is our intention to secure a large assortment of photographs that will offer ideas for future parades. It makes no difference where the pictures were taken, whether in California or in other states—we want them anyway.
These photographs may be left in room 112, hall of records."

Mildred Frizzel, 17, petite Los Angeles girl, wanted to get married yesterday. But the Los Angeles juvenile court said "no".

Mildred and the youth of her choice, Theodore M. Muzzy, appeared before County Clerk J. M.
Backs and were both surprised and shocked to learn that a telephone message from the juvenile court had headed them off. Backs had been instructed not to grant the license. The message to him stated the girl is a ward of the court and that Muzzy, too, was only 19, although he claimed to be 21.

Mildred gave her age as 18 and her residence as 140 Pasadena avenue. Muzzy's address was given as 1164 Minter street, and his occupation as engineer.

The girl was indignant and the youth considerably ruffled. He protested that he was actually 22
but that someone had given his age to the juvenile court as 19. He professed to be ready to proceed and swear to his age, despite the clerk's warning that a false affidavit constituted a felony offense.

WHAT DOES SANTA ANA NEED?

The following suggestions have been made by members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce in answer to the question: "What do you consider the most important thing the Chamber of Commerce should undertake for the future development of Santa Ana and Orange county?" The names of the authors of these answers are on file in the Register office.

I would suggest one of the homes they have partly paid for. The men who are brought here to do the work spend only the small part of their wages here that is required for their own maintenance, the balance going to their homes. ## New Style H-O

THE only oats that cook into granular oatmeal. Nothing else like it. Meaty granules provide roughage and stimulate digestion. Never cook sticky or pasty. The tiny, cup-shaped oat flakes have a wonderfully appetizing "baked-in" flavor. More than a new oatmeal—a new cereal—the tastiest breakfast dish ever.

Energy-building carbohydrates, tissue-building proteins, a wealth of vital minerals. And New Style H-O takes only 2 to 3 short minutes to cook—the quickest cooking cereal—quick as a flash!

Now two kinds of Regular H-O Oats and New Style H-O Oats (Quick).

In quantity and variety of styles this shipment is second only to a great number of lamps we told you about receiving a few weeks ago.

You would be surprised too, to know how many of them have been sold since that time!

We urge you to see this display while the range of choice is at its height.

Newest Lamp Creations

In this notable showing you will find standards in all the new and popular finishes—wrought iron, mahogany, gold, polychrome, etc.

The shades are in exquisite new shapes covered with parchment or the finest quality silk with silk trimmings and cords in rich color combinations.

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky.—"I was rundown, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer with out an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Kentucky.

High Noon Wedding to Crown Romance of School Days

"Journeys end in lovers' meetings" remains true for John E. Echols, of Birmingham, Ala., who arrived in this city last Monday and will tomorrow claim Miss Corita Foreman, daughter of Mrs. Roy Foreman, 602 South Parton street, as his bride at a quiet ceremony at the parsonage home of the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of Spurgeon Memorial church.

The wedding will crown a romance which time and distance have not affected save to render it brighter. Three years ago Miss Foreman came to this city from her girlhood home in Illinois where a junior in high school, she and Mr. Echols were classmates and firm friends. Their meeting Monday was the first in the intervening years.

At the ceremony scheduled for tomorrow at high noon, Miss Foreman will wear a charming frock of orchid crepe while for traveling she has chosen a smart ensemble costume of blue charmeuse with harmonizing accessories. The young people plan to leave soon after the ceremony and will go directly to Mackover, Ark., where Mr. Echols' duties as American Railway Express auditor will keep him stationed for the next few months.

Miss Foreman has been the valued and capable stenographer at the McCune Furniture store with which she was connected while it was still the Spurgeon company. She is prominent in social and lodge circles here and at the latest election in Sycamore Rebekah Mrs. A. B. Gardner gave an excellent talk upon Slavery, telling of the work done in that far-away country by Presbyterian missionaries, the only Christian organization which refused the nomination for noble grand, since her unrevealed plans were to leave the city at such an early date.

A succession of pleasant affairs is being given to honor the nuptials. On the evening of Armistice day, Mrs. Roy Foreman presided at a delightful little dinner when double honors were accorded Mr. Echols who was celebrating a patriotic birthday.

Covers were laid also for Miss Foreman, honoree, Miss Jesslyn Langsteth, Miss Bonnie Sifton, Dean Marshall and Wayne Nelson. Rosers were used with a highly decorative effect and a delectable dinner menu was served.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Mozley complimented their niece at a charmingly planned luncheon at their home, 905 North Sycamore street. The affair was quite intimate, guests including Miss Foreman, Mr. Echols, Mrs. Foreman, Miss Sifton and Mr. and Mrs. Don S. Mooley.

The Thanksgiving season was suggested in the decoration of autumn leaves with which decorative appointments of the luncheon corresponded. At tomorrow's wedding ceremony, only the immediate relatives and a few very close friends will be in attendance.

Missionary Society

The country of Siam was reviewed yesterday afternoon at the gathering of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, with Mrs. C. F. Smith, chairman of the program committee.

During a short business meeting plans were presented for the annual thank offering, which is to be held Sunday morning, November 23. It was announced that Mrs. T. S. Blair had been appointed as the representative from the society on the Council of Religious Education.

Mrs. H. W. Lewis, who had the pleasure of hearing Miss Hodges three times in Los Angeles, gave an interesting synopsis of her talks.

At the ceremony scheduled for tomorrow at high noon, Miss Foreman will wear a charming frock of orchid crepe while for traveling she has chosen a smart ensemble costume of blue charmeuse with harmonizing accessories. The young people plan to leave soon after the ceremony and will go directly to Mackover, Ark., where Mr. Echols' duties as American Railway Express auditor will keep him stationed for the next few months.

Eastern Star Folk
at Bridge Luncheon

With Mrs. George Fraher as hostess, the members of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S. will assemble at Colonial club tomorrow for a 1 o'clock luncheon. Following the luncheon, tables will be arranged for bridge which will form the afternoon's diversion.

The pleasure of the afternoon will be particularly lasting for the twenty-five members of the class decided to install one window in the new church to be built by the congregation and at the close of the party found that they had a fund of over $17 towards the purchase price.

Choice Recipes

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, whole wheat cooked cereal, toasted rolled oats bread, butter, soft-boiled eggs, thin cream, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of tomato soup, croutons, apple tapioca' pudding, plain cookies, tea, milk.

Dinner—Roast beef, potatoes baked with meat, brown gravy, creamed cauliflower, apple-celerly, nut salad, pear, bavarian cream, coffee, milk.

Soft-Boiled Eggs

Allow 1 cup of boiling water for each egg to be cooked. The water should be boiling briskly when the eggs are put in. As soon as the water reaches the boiling point after adding eggs, remove from the fire and let stand four minutes. Remove from hot water and hold under water one or two seconds to cool the shell.

Children with delicate digestion sometimes prefer eggs without butter. Season with salt and a tiny bit of pepper.

Pear Bavarian Cream

One cup pear pulp, 2 tablespoons lemon juice 3-4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 6 tablespoons cold water, 1 cup whipping cream 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, few grains saff.

Pare very ripe juicy pears and cut in quarters. Remove the core. Rub pulp through a puree strainer. Add lemon juice and sugar. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Stir into pear mixture. Stir frequently until mixture begins to jell. Fold in cream, whipped and sweetened with sugar and flavored with vanilla. Turn into mold and let stand on ice two or three hours to become firm and thoroughly chilled.

Cream of Tomato Soup

Four medium-sized tomatoes, 1 small onion, 4 tablespoons minced celery leaves, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-8 teaspoon soda, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 cups milk.

Peel tomatoes. Peel and cut onion in thin slices. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in soup kettle, add onion and cook over a low fire for five minutes. Add tomatoes and seasonings with ½ cup cold water. Cover and cook 20 minutes. Melt remaining butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk. Rub tomato mixture through a puree strainer, stir in soda and add milk. Heat very hot but do not let boil.

Pretty Family Dinner Honors Anniversary of Wedding

A festive little family dinner was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kibell at their home, 612 Bush street, in celebration of the sixteenth wedding anniversary of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Kibell.

Centering the table was a white satin ribbon-covered basket filled with bridal flowers and ferns. The handle was surmounted by a gauzy bow of tulle from which was suspended a silver wedding bell. Butterly bows of pink and white ribbon added further adornment. Harmonizing with the central basket were wee pink floral baskets at each place, mounted on fern leaves and holding the place cards.

At the places of the honorees were beautiful gifts of china each accompanied by clever little jingles from the givers. These were read aloud and added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The delectable dinner menu was enjoyed by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kibell, the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kibell and their cousins, Miss Margaret Gillen of Omaha, and Cal Gilmore of this city.

At Convention

Mrs. F. A. Marks and Mrs. G. B. Lamm as official delegates from the Woman's club to the district convention now in session at San Bernardino, are enjoying each session of the convention. Yesterday they were joined by Mrs. Leslie the president, Mrs. C. M. Williams Mrs. C. T. Wells and Mrs. J. C. Clark who spent the day in San Bernardino where they found the sessions of extreme interest and especially enjoyed the one-person rendering of Zangwill's "The Melting Pot" in the afternoon.

New School Plans

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Madden of 109 North Broadway are rejoicing in the return of their daughter, Miss Mildred Murphy, who arrived yesterday on the Santa Fe California Limited from New York City to make an extended visit here. Mr. and Mrs. Madden motored to Los Angeles to meet Miss Murphy, and were accompanied back to Santa Ana by L. J. Christopher with whose party their daughter motored through Europe. Miss Murphy went to Europe last May but remained in New York after her return four weeks ago, to attend to business affairs. The journey through Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland and Germany lasted six weeks and was made by automobile, giving the party views of many interesting spots off the beaten paths. Before going on her wonderful trip, Miss Murphy spent a very busy season in her work with the New York state commission in her labors among mental defectives.

St. Joseph's Choir

Plans Sacred Concert

Mme. Manuela Budrow, director of St. Joseph's choir, today announced that the choir would give a delightful sacred concert in St. Joseph's church, corner Lacy and Stafford street, Friday, November 21, at 8 p. m. Mme. Budrow extends a cordial invitation to music lovers to attend.

On this evening the fine new pipe organ, costing more than $6000, which was a gift to the church, and which is now being installed, will be dedicated. It is a Tracker organ and was purchased through the Long Beach agency.

After an afternoon of lively games, the young people were seated at a charmingly adorned table where chicken sandwiches, punch and salad were served, followed by a sweets course of iced, cake and bonbons.

The pleasure of the afternoon will be particularly lasting for the twenty-five members of the class decided to install one window in the new church to be built by the congregation and at the close of the party found that they had a fund of over $17 towards the purchase price.

W. C. T. U.

Next Tuesday afternoon, November 18, at the postponed meeting of the W. C. T. U. the program on Medical Temperance first arranged for last Tuesday and postponed on account of Armistice day, will be held at the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock.

Music Section

The postponed meeting of the Music section of Ebell society has been announced for next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the auditorium of the clubhouse where the program arranged for last Monday will be given under the direction of the leader, Miss Leonora Tompkins. On Wednesday night, November 19, the section will present the long-anticipated Peer Gynt program at the auditorium, as a benefit for the club.

San Diego Wedding Proves Surprise To Friends

Comfortably settled in their ranch home near this city, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eaton were today receiving the congratulations of a host of friends on their wedding of Monday, November 10 at San Diego.

Mrs. Eaton was formerly Mrs. Minnie Sherrill of Crookston, Minn. and came to this city about two years ago. She left recently for San Diego to enter the Normal school and prepare to resume her profession of teaching.

There she was joined last Monday by Mr. Eaton and their marriage followed, the Rev. Wallace M. Hamilton, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating.

The happy young people returned to this city Tuesday where they were accorded a royal welcome at the home of Mr. Eaton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Eaton, 808½ Spurgeon street.

Board Meeting

The executive board of the club will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the president, Mrs. Louis Leslie, at her home, 212½ West Fourth street, where they will be accorded a royal welcome at the home of Mr. Eaton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Eaton, 808½ Spurgeon street.

COUNTY CHARACTERS ARE BUTT OF GOOD-NATURED JOKES AT G. O. P. RALLY

By HORACE FINE

The world today continued its speeding circle and Calvin Coolidge continued his masterly administration of national affairs with renewed interest, following ratification here last night of his election by the "common peepul," by a rump convention of "gentlemen and Democrats."

The convention, held at St. Ann's Inn, was a hilarious affair and in point of steam roller operations put to shame any of the conventions held in the day when the Southern Pacific ruled the state with an iron hand.

Two hundred and ten men who confessed by their presence to being actively engaged in saving the people from themselves by directing the political destinies of Orange county were gathered at the festive board. The number included a delegation of five men from Riverside, who were officially seated as delegates. They were C. L. McFarland, chairman of the county central committee; L. C. Kelly, district attorney; George R. Freeman, judge of the superior court; V. E. Harris, secretary of the Coolidge-Dawes club, and J. R. Gabbert, editor of the Riverside Enterprise, who has been appointed by Governor Friend Richardson to succeed Frank Smith as state printer when Smith relieves James A. Johnston as warden at San Quentin.

The funfest opened when Dr. R. A. Cushman, chairman of the Orange county Republican central committee, called the convention together and introduced Judge F. C. Drumm as toastmaster. The toastmaster's first "crack" threw the delegates into convulsions and there were not many moments in the 120 minutes following that the convention was not in an uproar. Drumm addressed himself to "gentlemen and Democrats," and announced the purpose of the session to be to ratify the triumph of Republicans over the forces of La Follette, told a couple of good stories and called for the report of the committee on resolutions.

HITS at Local Men
W. C. Jerome offered the resolutions, which he said, had been prepared by a hand-picked committee. Bristling with "hits" at country men, the resolutions paved the way for convention incidents that followed with telegrams and addresses taking on the lighter strain and the addresses being freely punctuated with "parlor stories."

The serious addresses of the evening by Judge Freeman, Attorney Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana and others who touched the serious briefly in their remarks, carried a warning of the necessity of the people being constantly on their guard against a party or a faction that sought to initiate radical ideas in the administration of the national government.

Demonstration by the election that the common people still have faith in the present form of government and will stand by the constitution against attacks by those who would alter it, was commented on freely.

SANK DIFFERENCES
Prediction was made that were it necessary to preserve the constitution, the Democratic and Republican parties would readily unite in a common fight against any force that might attempt introduction of radicalism. Reference frequently was made to the fact that thousands of Democrats had disregarded their party affiliation and in the election cast their ballots for Coolidge to insure defeat of La Follette forces.

Horace Head, attorney of Santa Ana, and J. S. Rice of Tustin, were Democrats who participated in the program, each declaring that Coolidge was their president, now that he had been chosen by the people to continue his administration for four years.

GOOD "WATCHERS"
Declaring that it was necessary to have a party to watch the party in power, Head said the Democrats were good watchers, and that the party was the only organization that could stand defeat virtually for fifty years and still come back for more.

Speakers other than those mentioned were Dr. R. A. Cushman, who expressed his appreciation of the support given him as chairman of the county central committee and who was given vote of appreciation; N. T. Edwards, member of the state highway commission; the Rev. Paul Wright, pastor of the First Christian church at Ontario; S. C. Hartranft, assemblyman-elect; T. L. McFadden, of Placentia; Edgar Johnson, editor of the Fullerton Tribune and Leon Whitsell, of Orange, member of the board of supervisors, who took occasion to pay tribute to the service of public office holders in Orange county and who paid a tribute to T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board of supervisors, by declaring that "if there is one man in Orange county who is working for the people and delivering the goods, it is good old Tom Talbert."

Following Whitsell's address the convention adjourned until there is an occasion for reassembling the delegates.

Ebell Travelers

Mrs. C. F. Crose will have charge of the program which members of Ebell's second travel section will enjoy next Monday afternoon in the lounge of the clubhouse. A full attendance of members is expected to gather for the opening number at 2 o'clock.

HEAVY SENTENCE GIVEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—William Steffens and Joseph Matopolski, both 19 years old, convicted of attacking a 17-year-old girl, today were sentenced to terms of 30 to 60 years in prison. "I hope I am not vindictive," said Judge Humphrey, "but these two young men should be taken out of society just as lunatics are."

SEE GENERAL REVIVAL NOW ELECTION IS ALL SETTLED

Santa Ana Business Men Comment on Improvement Manifested

NEW PLANTS WILL HELP

High Average of $200,000 Month In Building Has Continued

Confidence in a general revival in business, now that the presidential year bugaboo has been exploded, was expressed today by Santa Ana business men. While many of these citizens agreed that Santa Anans have a right to expect excellent business conditions and general prosperity here at all times it was generally admitted that business activities have been given an impetus since the election.

That Santa Ana has been more prosperous than most of the cities of less than 50,000 population, is indicated on the business barometer of building statistics. This city has maintained a constant average of more than $200,000 a month in building since the first of the current year. This record has not been reached by the largest cities of at least eight states in the nation according to recent reports of the S. W. Straus national building survey.

Division of large acreages into small building lots in and near the city of Santa Ana, and the rapid building of homes in these tracts, have been outstanding features of the past twelve months in real estate activity. A check on the city's population will show that these homes and homesites have come into demand because of the constantly increasing population.

Indisputable Proof
Proof of the confidence of influential men in Santa Ana is shown by the decision of officials of the Standard American Glass company, the Ulmer Machinery corporation, the Vendor Distributing company and the Calawon Steel Products company, to erect large factories here. The directors of all these industrial plants

Realty Boards To Meet At Riverside

Realty boards of the Orange belt district will join in a farm lands conference at Mission Inn, Riverside, on Saturday.

The boards will include Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino, Ontario, Uplands and Pomona. W. E. Stephens, of Riverside, vice president of the California Real Estate association, will preside.

F. C. Pope, Everett A. White and Freeman I. Bloodgood are among the Santa Ana realtors who will be present. White and Bloodgood will participate in the program, which will be as follows:

"Industries and How to Secure Them," J. M. Berman, Ontario; "Farm Lands and the Colorado River," S. C. Evans, mayor of Riverside; "Legislation," Bloodgood; "the State Association," White; "Good of the Association," Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the state association.

BILL BOARDS NO LONGER TO MAR SCENERY

Laguna Beach Realty Men Adopt Resolutions to Restrict Signs

"For sale" signs, "for rent" signs and large bill-boards after January 1, 1925, will not mar the beauty spots of Laguna Beach, if members of the Laguna Beach Realty Board enforce the provisions of a resolution passed by the board.

According to Roy Peacock, president, every broke-in art colony is a member of the board, and therefore it is believed that action of the organization would be effective in removing all signs, except those provided for in the resolution.

It was anticipated that the anti-sign movement would be more effective than the recent attempt to drive "hot dog" stands from the "beach that is different."

NEED SUPPORT TO GO AHEAD, SAYS OLIGER

Chamber Secretary Will Suggest "Santa Ana Industrial Day"

BY A. L. OLIGER
Secretary Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce

The industrial prospects of the nation never have looked brighter than they are now. We are told that our treasury holds approximately one-half of the world's supply of gold; banking conditions in this section are excellent; labor is reasonably content; crops are abundant with good prices higher than last year, and the general feeling in all lines is better. The immediate resumption of progress in all industrial lines, after adjustment of these vital factors, affords impressive evidence of the inherent strength of the economic situation.

Santa Ana has a splendid opportunity ahead of it for industrial development, but before we can expect to get the best results industrially we must sell the industrial division of our Chamber of Commerce to our own community. By that I mean we must get busy with our organization and build it up in order to have no scoffers in the city who will make remarks to these people who come to locate industries and say anything discouraging to them. We must get the town to pulling together, we must build up an industrial spirit for the community.

Each Worth $5000

The importance of industrial growth is readily appreciated when it is understood that the commercialized value of each man and woman in all communities is over $5,000, measured by their productive capacity. Additional factories bring more men and women, and enlarged population brings increased wealth to the community. The benefit accrues about equally to the laboring classes in receipt of their pay checks, and to the mercantile and other commercial interests of the city, whose success is dependent in part on the purchasing power of the employee. No other branch of industry can excel manufacturing from a labor standpoint. Employment is usually continuous throughout the year. Both male and female help is utilized and payment is prompt with a good wage.

Extend Own Plants

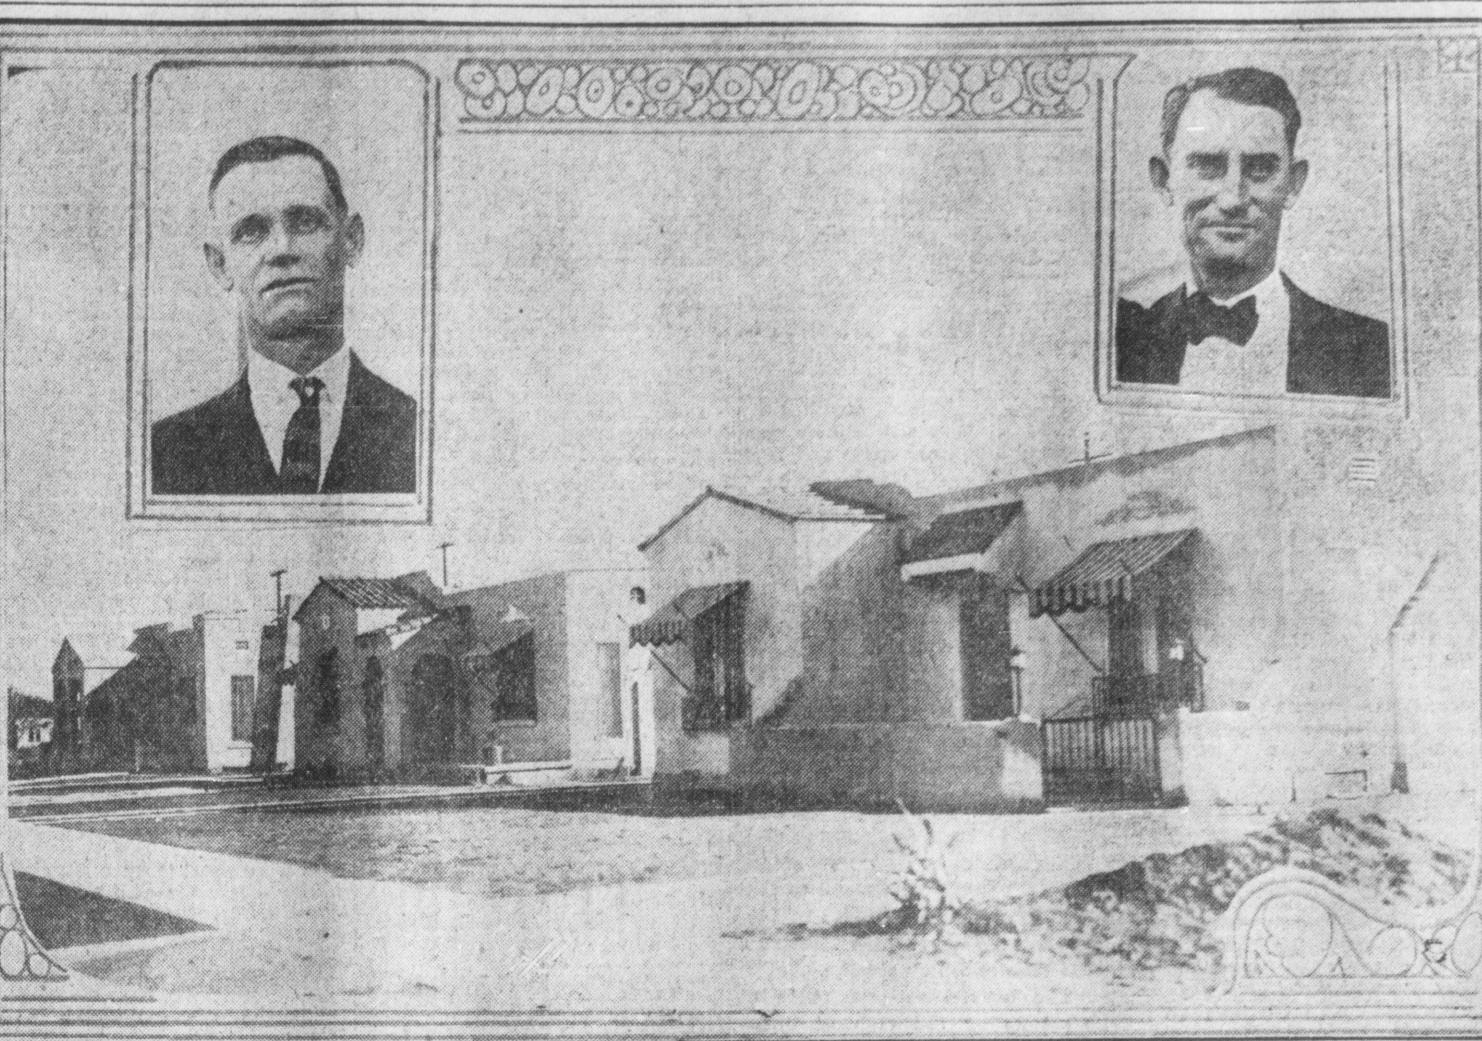

Another item we should consider in Santa Ana is the fact that it is just as important to extend co-operation to the factories already located here, as it is to go out and seek new ones. We believe that right here in Santa Ana we might find many of our people who are quite anxious and able to expand and with a little co-operation their enlargement might prove just as valuable as securing a number of new industries.

Last week a number of leading Santa Anans took a day off from their regular businesses and spent several hours in going over the development of industries in the Central Manufacturing district, the Union Pacific Industrial Tract, the Bandini District and others in Los Angeles. As a result of this trip everyone was deeply impressed with the possibilities of industrial development in Southern California, they realized that right here in Santa Ana and Orange County we have possibilities equally as important.

Now the next step is to set aside a day in the near future to be known as "Santa Ana's Industrial Day" and let all the business

FINE HOMES ERECTED IN POPULAR RESIDENTIAL SECTION

John H. Neale (left) and E. N. Henson (right), of the realty firm of Neale and Henson, 427 North Sycamore street, are inviting the public to inspect the "permanently constructed" homes in the improved Wakeham Place tract, which they claim is nearer to the business district than any other subdivision now on the market in Santa Ana. The new attractive stucco houses shown above have features patterned after the newest bungalows in the East. The house in the foreground is owned by Frank Stewart, the middle house is owned by B. F. Concliffe and the third house, which is under construction, has not yet been sold. These three residences are on Wakeham Place just east of Orange avenue.

HUGE BUILDING SHORTAGE OVER NATION INDICATED BY SURVEY OF COMPANY

That a national building shortage somewhat in excess of $4,000,000 now exists in the entire country is indicated by reports made to S. W. Straus and company, in a survey of all cities of more than 10,000 population, the results of which have just been made public.

Studies were made in 538 cities.

In 380 of these, reports were made of building shortages amounting to $4,050,220,000 of which $2,102,693,500 is needed for residential types;

$1,130,851,00 for commercial types and $870,270,00 for public buildings of all kinds. In 148 cities no shortage was reported, thus indicating that in these places the amount of building requirements now rests on the normal demands of growth and improvement.

That a shortage of considerable magnitude also exists in places having less than 10,000 population was indicated by the results of the Straus inquiry in 20 typical towns of this type in various parts of the United States. Twelve of these places showed aggregate shortages of more than $14,000,000 while eight revealed normal conditions.

The investigation also brought to light definitely planned expenditures of nearly $800,000,000 during the next two years for churches, hospitals, charitable and educational institutions, these figures not being included in actual shortages now existing.

The survey was made with the co-operation of chambers of commerce, real estate boards, building departments, municipal governments and other agencies best qualified in their respective communities to give authentic data.

The Western states reported shortages of $281,115,000 of which $79,900,000 was residential, $91,375,000 commercial and $117,840,000 public.

Of the 25 leading cities, New York led with a shortage of $855,000,000, the greater part of which

Owing to the high class improvements in Wakeham Place and the proximity of the subdivision to Santa Ana's business district, lots have been selling very rapidly and many homes are being erected in the tract in the southeastern part of the city, according to John H. Neale, of the realty firm, Neale and Henson, owners of the subdivision.

Wakeham Place lots were placed formally on the market five months ago, and since then all have been sold except ten, it was explained by E. N. Henson, partner of Neale. Henson asserted that the Wakeham Place tract is nearer the heart of Santa Ana than any other sub-division on the market.

All of the lots in this tract have the same large frontage—53 feet.

There are large walnut trees on many of the lots. The streets are 70 feet wide and paved, the cement curbs and sidewalks already are "in," and in some places lawns have been planted in the ten-foot parking strips.

A number of beautiful homes have just been completed in the tract, and others are under construction. Several unique styles of architecture may be found in this subdivision. On Wakeham Place a half block east of Orange avenue is the new colonial residence of Bruce E. Switzer. Next door is the mission style stucco home of Miss Lillian B. Simonson. Opposite these are three Spanish bungalows, finished in stucco. Other homes equally attractive are being erected in other parts of the tract.

In addition to selling lots on easy terms, Neale and Henson assist in financing home building. The subdividers also are building houses to be placed on sale. All of these houses, according to Neale, are being constructed like Eastern houses.

Larger floor joists and thicker walls than are found in the average California house have been ordered for the Neale and Henson homes. These houses have unique built-in features, cove ceilings and arched doors, inside and outside.

is needed for residential types of buildings. Chicago with a shortage of $501,543,000 was second.

Philadelphia reported a shortage of $240,000,000; Milwaukee, $130,000,000; San Francisco, $78,500,000.

is needed for residential types of buildings.

The San Joaquin Delta Needs American Farmers

Get your start as a renter first!

MANY thousands of acres of garden land are open for rental next year for such crops as potatoes, onions, corn, beans, asparagus, celery, sugar beets and garden truck, for the San Joaquin Delta is a diversified producer.

As a result of the anti-alien land law, the San Joaquin Delta is being made increasingly attractive to American renters.

American farmers who join in the Americanization of the San Joaquin Delta NOW will earn pioneers' profits.

World's Potato Record

It is this same San Joaquin Delta which recently won the world's record for potato yield per acre from Great Britain. Luther Burbank, who witnessed the event, declared:

"I think that the Delta is the most wonderful section of fertile soil which the sun has ever shone on—a tremendous, partially developed agricultural gold mine."

San Joaquin Delta lands are now wide open—waiting for American farmers.

PREDICT AFTER-ELECTION REVIVAL

made Santa Ana their choice during the present year.

If these conditions prevail during a year of so-called depression what may Santa Ana expect now that election is over?

This question is answered by Paul F. Langworthy, who recently addressed the Builders' exchanges in Orange county. Langworthy, who is secretary-manager of the Los Angeles exchange, declared:

"Next year will be one of the greatest, if not the greatest periods in the history of the construction industry here." The building expert explained that he based his prediction on an exhaustive survey of prevailing conditions.

Reason for Optimism

Bankers and business men of Santa Ana are optimistic because, they explain, there is no logical reason for a depression now. The only unfavorable elements in business locally have been purely psychological during the past few months, due principally to the uncertainty in the public mind concerning the election, it is said. Now that election is over and speculation has been overcome as to what is going to happen politically, the real favorable economic situation will begin to express itself.

According to Roger W. Babson, nationally-known business expert, the banks hold off loaning money until after election. This gives them a chance to get cleared up and in a strong financial position. Meanwhile, Babson says, the merchants tell the salesmen who call on them "to wait until after election." This gives them a chance to clean their shelves and work off old stocks preparatory to some real buying. The manufacturer uses the election as an alibi to reduce overhead, adjust wages and introduce some real efficiency in the business. While these things may make business quiet for two or three months preceding election day, they are all helpful.

Naturally, all statistics show that service should pick up.

The Babson chart, depicting conditions throughout the entire nation, discloses that business today is 8 per cent below normal as compared with 16 per cent below normal a year ago. Obviously the fundamental situation is steadily improving.

men who can get away from their places of business, take a few hours and make a survey of the industrial possibilities right here in our immediate district. We should spend a day in visiting our local industrial plants, get personally acquainted with their needs, find out what they are doing and in a general way familiarize ourselves with our own industrial possibilities, then we will be in a position to view the future of industrial development of Santa Ana from all angles.

This matter will be placed before the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting and we feel confident they will act favorably on the proposition and recommend that such action be taken.

U. S. READY TO LOAN GERMANS MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Like doctors watching over a convalescing patient, the financial physicians of the world are breathlessly checking the gold pulsebeat of Germany, awaiting a favorable sign of ultimate recovery to pour millions of dollars into that enigma nation, that again she may stand among the world's greatest commercial powers.

That is the substance of confidential information in the hands of the United States government.

The vanguard of trusted agents of American bankers and investment brokers has already invaded Germany, to study the economic "comeback" anticipated following the acceptance of the Dawes report of the successful flotation of the $200,000,000 loan.

The United States, having subscribed $110,000,000 of the loan, will be Germany's biggest customer as the result of the industrial development expected to come, according to government economists. Great Britain with her $70,000,000 subscription, stands second as a prospective beneficiary of rehabilitated German commerce.

Vision More Loans

The $110,000,000 subscribed by American bankers to put German currency on a gold exchange basis and to establish basic credits abroad, is the forerunner of possible hundreds of millions that will flow into the great industries of that nation as soon as her recovery becomes apparent, federal experts asserted.

"Germany is certain to become an insistent market for American capital in years to come," said a statement issued by one government department. "Germany must have credit to obtain the vast supply of raw materials to keep her industries going."

The greater portion of the credit granted from the United States will go to German firms now doing business with the country, either as importers or exporters. Already the potash fertilizer interest, dye and drug producers, both of which export tremendous quantities of goods to the United States, and a string of German cotton mills which consume a large quantity of American cotton, have been named extensively in this country. It was learned yesterday.

The government regards the first indications from Germany as favorable.

made its influence in causing removal of unsightly billboards that now mar the landscape along the highway between Irvine and Laguna Beach," Peacock said.

It is believed that in adoption of the following resolutions the "baby" realty board has set a precedence for other boards in the state.

"It shall be mutually agreed and understood by all members of the Laguna Beach Realty board, that they will not erect sign boards or display signs of any description, whether for advertising property for sale, or the advertising of whatever, except under the following conditions:

"Subdivisions shall have the privilege of erecting one sign for purposes of advertising a particular subdivision in such a manner as hereafter described.

"Any property when subdivided and consisting of less than ten lots it shall be understood that no sign may be erected under the interpretation of this article, but a subdivision consisting of not less than 10 lots may have a sign placed thereon by the agents or subdividers for the purpose of advertising such property for sale.

"Two signs as previously described may be erected on a subdivision consisting of over a total of 10 acres, and one sign for every additional 10 acres.

"It is mutually understood that the members of the Laguna Beach Realty Board will not display signs commonly known as 'sidewall signs' or 'for rent' signs on any premises whatsoever other than on or within their places of business.

"The intent of this article is for the purpose of eliminating signs of every character of an advertising nature, other than those on or within the premises or places of business within the district of Laguna Beach, also the thoroughfares leading to and from Laguna Beach."

At the same meeting resolutions of condolence were adopted and forwarded to the bereaved family of Butler Hart, escrow officer of the Orange County Title company, who passed on last week. Hart was well known to all the local realtors who feel his loss very keenly.

The board has been formally granted membership in the National Real Estate Association, according to State President Everett A. White.

The final sections of its constitution and by-laws having been accepted, regular meetings hereafter will be held the first and third Thursday of each month.

Secretary "Andy" Hall was instructed to obtain all information relative to extension course in real estate offered by the University of Southern California as the local realtors expect to enroll a large class in this branch of learning.

Every branch of the real estate profession is covered in this course.

5 H. B. OIL WELLS BEING REDRILLED

Redrilling operations were started last week on five wells in the Huntington Beach oil district, according to the weekly bulletin of the state department of petroleum and gas covering oil operations in the state for the week ending Nov. 8.

The new operations were by the Petroleum Midway company, Ltd., Pearce, No. 1; Barnett Rosenberg, No. 4; Standard Oil company, Surf No. 2, and Huntington B. 20.

N. E. Guthrie was the only operator in the county to start a new well, his activity being in spudding in his No. 1 at Newport Beach. Abandonment in the Huntington Beach field were by the Standard Oil company, Huntington Beach No. 7 and Fowler No. 1, and by the Miley-Keck company, No. 14.

Guesses 5000 Bootleggers Work Capital

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Five thousand bootleggers are operating in the national capital, Assistant U. S. District Attorney David Hart estimated today.

Hart has had charge of prohibition enforcement cases here for three years. His estimate would make one man out of every ninety Washingtonians a bootlegger.

The five thousand bootleggers now working all but 250 have been before the courts at one time or another, Hart said.

Over 10,000 cases of bootlegging have been prosecuted here.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailments—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, an abiding sense of trouble with indigestion foods? Take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, olive oil color. They do the work without irritating, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime. 15c and 30c.

Paying Off a Monthly Installment Loan

Is nothing more than saving a certain amount each month, until the amounts added together, equal the sum borrowed. Our loans are made on several different monthly bases, to suit your income, so that you can pay off in as short a time as 22 payments or as long a time as 9½ years. The more you pay each month, the less time it takes to "save" the loan, and the less interest you pay. Why not take up your existing mortgage and pay a little each month on the loan? Instead of renewing papers every three years, you will find that you are owing considerable less than you started with, and in addition you avoid the expense of new papers, as our loan is written once for the full period, and needs no further renewing.

GOLF COURSE, COMMODIOUS QUARTERS, FACILITIES FOR SPORTS PLANNED BY CLUB

The Dana Point Yacht and Country Club, eight miles south of Laguna Beach and 2½ miles from Capistrano started its drive for membership last Monday.

The club is located on a majestic headland, three hundred and fifty feet high on a beautiful verdant slope, and the grounds covering approximately 300 acres are within a half mile of the new proposed coast boulevard and within three quarters of a mile of beach activities.

The plan of those interested is to make this a real Country Club home, dedicated to the lovers of clean and wholesome sport in the great outdoors and it is the intention to construct two 18 hole golf courses, where big tournaments will be held. A commodious clubhouse with spacious entrances and lobbies, living rooms, dining rooms, billiard rooms, gymnasium, lockers, etc., will enable all members to thoroughly enjoy the social life that a club affords. Arrangements are being made for outdoor swimming plunge, which together with ocean bathing will satisfy all swimmers, in addition to which tennis, hiking, fishing, dancing, trap shooting, and riding will be arranged.

The corporation handling this project is a California concern and is non-profit and co-operative. The members themselves will have complete ownership of land and improvements. The corporation has a permit through the Corporation Commission to sell approximately 3000 memberships in small units, each unit being raised in actual price for memberships through the purchase of land and improvements made through sale of memberships on previous units. The organizers of this club are not receiving any promotion stock and every cent received through membership, outside of a small selling expense allowed by the Corporation Commission, will be used in the purchase of lands and improvements, which have been contracted for by the club, it is announced.

Club Feels Need

Officers will be elected from the membership at large and when the club is operating, every member will have a voice in the selection of its officers, who will receive no pay, outside of the club manager who will be selected by the board.

There is declared to be need for a club such as proposed. Its location is such that members from Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties can reach the club site in from one half to two hours. It will mean much to Orange county generally as there is no club of the magnitude as proposed, anywhere near Los Angeles. Owing to the fact that dormitories have been included in the general plan for its members only, it gives facilities for rest and recreation over the week-ends, as well as a place where vacations can be enjoyed at a nominal cost.

The Country Club itself will receive the attention of those interested in this project, after which the Yacht Club will come in for its share of attention and a liberal portion of the beach has been set aside for this enterprise and will be located between a pier and breakwater which is planned to be constructed at beautiful Dana Point.

The Dana Point Sales Co., Cooper Hotel building, has been appointed special representatives in Santa Ana and is in a position to give all data in connection with the Club in addition to accepting memberships.

TONS OF GOLD IN OCEAN IS CLAIM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Thousands of millions of tons of gold are dissolved in the waters of the oceans, Captain F. B. Bassett, Navy hydrographer, said in relating some of the revelations of naval oceanographic investigations.

"This gold," Captain Bassett said, "is concentrated in from one-half to one grain per ton of water. This represents about $10 worth of gold in every 350 to 500 tons of ocean water."

"Beneath the surface of the sea the weight of the water in the layers above naturally exerts a pressure on everything below. The weight of the air at the surface of the earth is nearly 15 pounds for each square inch of surface. The pressure in the sea increases by an additional atmosphere for each 32 feet in depth. At 16,000 feet the pressure is 7,500 pounds per square inch."

The ocean's deepest spot, Bassett said, was discovered recently by the Japanese ship "Manshu", about 145 miles southeast of Tokyo. Soundings showed 6,18 miles.

FORTUNE TELLERS MAY STILL 'TELL'

LONG BEACH, Nov. 13.—Fortune tellers may still read your past, present and future in Long Beach. The city council dropped an ordinance drafted some time ago banning all soothsayers from operating here.

Following an hour's heated argument in which the 35 or more fortune tellers along the "Pike" protested against the proposed ban, the council decided to adopt a statute providing for a commission of three to examine every mystic in the city and issue licenses to those who deserve them.

Complaints that fortune tellers were fleecing trusting victims out of their money, breaking up homes and doing damage in other ways was responsible for the campaign against them.

WATER SURVEY AWAITED WITH KEEN CONCERN

Citizens of Orange county are anxiously awaiting the completion of the state-wide survey of water resources now being made by Assistant State Engineer Paul Bailey, it was learned here today. It has been predicted that as a result of this survey, which is expected to be completed within six months, prompt action will be demanded to open more acreage to irrigation. At the same time it is believed that special attention will be given the conservation of the state's water supply.

R. N. Wilson, director of the agricultural department of the California Development association, emphasized the need for a complete inventory of the water resources in view of the rapid development of irrigation in this state.

The extreme importance of completing the survey of water resources which is now under way," said Wilson, "is evident from the fact that in the ten-year period between 1910 and 1920, according to the United States Census Bureau, the acreage of land which all irrigation projects in California, private, co-operative and commercial, were capable of irrigating, increased from 3,619,378 acres to 5,894,466 acres. In 1910 these projects actually irrigated 2,664,104 acres, as compared with 4,219,040 acres in 1920.

"In 1910 the area of land included within active Wright Act irrigation districts in California was 642,519 acres. In 1920 the acreage included 2,575,198 acres.

"By the end of 1922 this figure had increased to 2,753,095 acres in active districts, with an additional 1,127,637 acres in organized but inactive districts in the state for formation prior to the voting of bonds for construction of the enterprise. The largest increase in acreage included within active districts was during the years 1919 and 1920.

"With irrigation development proceeding at such a rapid rate, the need for a complete inventory of water resources is immediately evident."

ROSE TOURNAMENT INVITES GOVERNOR

PASADENA, Nov. 13.—Governor Friend W. Richardson was today extended a personal invitation by the Tournament of Roses association to be present at Pasadena's world-famous New Year's Day pageant, as the guest of the city. The invitation was sent by W. F. Creller, president of the Pasadena association, and who says he has assurances that the governor will be present on that day.

To date there have been thirty entries of floats in the tournament, according to Malcolm Fras-

RECORD EGG LAYER DIES OF OLD AGE

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 13.—"Old Peggy" the first barred Plymouth rock hen to make an egg record of more than 300 eggs a year in the O. A. C. flocks, is dead at the age of seven years, six months. "Old Peggy" completed her first record of 303 eggs on November 22, 1918. In seven years of production she laid 936 eggs.

The world's record barred rock hen, K-24, with 324 eggs in her first year, is the daughter of Peggy's son.

Girl Accuses Her Uncle of Attack

UPLAND, Nov. 13.—Charged with attempted criminal assault upon Mrs. Charlotte Van, his own niece by marriage, J. A. Van, 58 years of age, night man in a local garage, was held in jail in lieu of $1,000 bail, fixed by Judge Crane at his arraignment.

Mrs. Van, who recently came to Upland and secured employment as a waitress in a restaurant, says that her uncle visited her at her apartments in a local rooming house and violently attempted to force his unwelcome attentions upon her. Van is said to have admitted making love to the young woman, but to have denied using force. He was arrested this morning by Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer on complaint of Mrs. Van.

What's that? We all thought that everything was quiet now at Washington.

But activity at Washington (in Santa Ana) has just commenced.

18-foot paving was first reported. But that's too narrow for such an important street as West Washington. It's to be paved FULL WIDTH!

And that is just the beginning.

Come--See for Yourself

er, secretary-manager. A number of these are American Legion posts in various Southern California cities, who will have an entire division in the parade.

The city of Anaheim, which has participated in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses as many times as any other city in the south, was the first city to oficially announce their plans for a New Year's float.

It was also announced at tournament headquarters today that the route of the parade would remain the same this year as in years past. It will assemble on

J. C. Men To Play Saturday

Undefeated Frosh Team Foe

Santa Ana's junior college football team, strong contenders for Southern California conference titular honors, will meet the undefeated freshmen eleven from the University of California, Southern Branch, at Poly field Saturday afternoon, Coach Leroy ("Boss") Warren announced today.

It seems rather strange, however, from the Navy viewpoint, that so many star athletes prefer the military to the naval service.

Warren and Eddie Hummel, former J. C. mentor who is helping with business matters pertaining to the athletic squads, made every effort to change the date for the contest - Friday so as not to conflict with the Fullerton-Santa Ana match, but the Grizzly Cubs found it unable to come here that afternoon.

Feeling it necessary for his henchmen to have the scrimmage in the "pink" for the championship game with the San Diego State Teachers' college outfit November 22 the local mentors decided to go on with the tilt as arranged.

Warrel planned to send his charges through a vigorous work out this afternoon and let them off with a brief signal drill tomorrow.

The Southern Branch Frosh won the Southern California Intercollegiate conference for yearling elevens and should be able to give the locals a strenuous afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Orange high school eleven will take on Coach Earl Murray's Tustin squad. This is the deciding game of the Orange county league and will be played at Orange. Orange is leading the league at present with three victories and no losses.

Anaheim is second with two games won and one lost. Should the Orange team lose to Tustin there would be a tie between Anaheim and Orange.

Coach Berg is training his men carefully and does not intend to lose to Tustin as happened a year ago. Berg's men went over to Tustin and were walloped 13 to 0. This was due to over-confidence. Coach Murray expects to have a full team one the field and is hoping to surprise the powerful Orange eleven. The teams average about the same in weight, though Orange as a whole has a little more experience than the bean-bowlers. This should be a good game as the heavy Tustin held Anaheim and Santa Ana to comparative low scores.

Admitting, for the sake of argument, however, that it's nobody's business how athletics are conducted at West Point and how players are secured, the point arises - "With so many good and experienced players, why is it that West Point doesn't have more successful teams?"

Coaching is blamed by some critics. Club spirit is held as being responsible by others. It has also been suggested that the military life does not encourage individuality and that Army football teams play too much like the drill.

PIGSKINS PRIMER

What are some of the reasons for which time is taken out during the progress of a football game?

Time is taken out after an incomplete forward pass; after a fair catch has been made; after a touchdown, safety or a touchback; during the enforcement of all penalties; when the ball goes out of bounds, or when the referee suspends play for any reason.

Admitting, for the sake of argument, however, that it's nobody's business how athletics are conducted at West Point and how players are secured, the point arises - "With so many good and experienced players, why is it that West Point doesn't have more successful teams?"

News From Orange County

CO-OPERATION TO BE SOUGHT BY PORT MEN

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 13.—Members and friends of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce are to hold a membership meeting at the club house in Costa Mesa on Thursday evening, November 20, it was announced, here today by Harry Welch, secretary.

At this meeting a review of the progress made on Orange County Harbor will be given by different speakers, and plans for membership activities will be discussed and outlined.

The burden of keeping the important Harbor project before the people of the entire county has been carried by the Harbor Chamber for the last year and a half, and through its efforts considerable advancement has been made. A general appeal for others throughout the county to take an active part in the Harbor Chamber will probably be advanced, as it is the belief of the present members that county-wide membership can be obtained without a great deal of difficulty.

The Newport Bay region has a Chamber of Commerce in each of its three separate localities—Balboa, Costa Mesa, and Newport Beach, and all are in close harmony and co-operation with the harbor organization which directs its efforts primarily to harbor activities.

Early in the new year an entirely new board of directors and a new set of officers will be elected, and considerable interest is already being taken in the outlook and program for 1925.

Grove Newlyweds Are Given Shower

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 13.—Methodist parsonage, home of Rev. and Mrs. David B. Loofbourough was the scene of a very delightfully planned affair on Monday evening when members of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the church, arrived to surprise the newly married daughter of the home and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Darlington who were spending an enjoyable week-end with their parents.

The young couple were taken completely unawares and after a few minutes conversation Miss Lova Holt and Miss Florence Pearson entered with a traveling case filled with dainty and useful articles for the bride. Mr. Darlington who had quietly slipped away on the entrance of the young ladies thinking that no gentlemen were allowed, was apprehended and brought forth to open the traveling case. Mrs. Darlington then opened the packages and passed each gift around the merry circle for appreciative inspection. There were many beautiful and well chosen gifts for use at home or abroad, as fortune will soon determine, and wonder was expressed by the guests that so many gifts could be packed in so small a space.

The evening was all too short for the thrilling experiences related, stories well told, songs and conversation.

While the short notice of the affair hindered some from being present, enjoying the evening were Miss Florence Pearson, Miss Lova Holt, Miss Mettie Chaffee, Miss Jessie Dungan, Miss Marion Magnusson, Miss Vesta Newson, Miss Marguerite Young, Miss Gladys Barnes, Miss Margaret Beattie, Miss Norma Rossman, Miss Metta Rossman, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Miss Edna Beloit, Mrs. Wayne Holt, Mrs. Emmett Smith, Mrs. Ralph Chaffee, Mrs. Alice Hale, Mrs. S. R. Fitz, Mrs. David Loofbourough and Mrs. Karl Darlington.

County Officer To Address Center

TUSTIN, Nov. 13.—Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, will be the speaker of the evening at a meeting of the local Farm center at the high school here tonight. Slabaugh will tell the people of the community of his duties as purchasing agent and will explain how the money is spent.

The Mens Chorus here will appear on the program as a special feature. This will be the first public appearance of the chorus since their reorganization this year. During the summer months the organization was disbanded on account of the absence of the instructor, Miss Madge Stephens, music teacher at the high school. It is expected that a large attendance will be present and a special committee will have refreshments prepared for the public.

Intruder Is Found Asleep In Bank

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 12.—When W. L. Thompson, connected with the Citizens' State Bank, entered the bank, he found a man sleeping in the teller's cage. A pistol and black mask were beside the man. Mr. Thompson called the police.

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take a Marmola Prescription." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still lose weight. They do this without the long sleep of dreams—exercise and starvation diet. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold at drugstores and are one dollar for a box or if you prefer you can order direct from the Detroit, Mich., General Motors Bldg.

Presbyterians At Tustin Gather

TUSTIN, Nov. 13.—More than 175 people last night were present at the supper served in the social room of the Presbyterian church by the women of the aid society of the church.

A committee report early this morning showed that considerable money was realized from the bazaar held during the afternoon and the supper during the evening. The bazaar was held in Sunday school rooms, adjacent to the church. The proceeds will be placed in the building fund of the church by the Aid society. The building fund is steadily mounting the total now being well over the $2500 mark, it is reported.

WILL ENTERTAIN AROUND THE WORLD TOURISTS ON VISIT TO PACIFIC COAST

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 13.—Following the example of the various cities of Orange County last year, when presents of walnuts and oranges were given to travelers on the steamship Franconia, which was then on a trip around the world, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county are at present planning to entertain the passengers aboard the Red Star liner "Belgenland" in order to exhibit the possibilities of Orange county, it was announced here today.

Many letters were received throughout the county last year, it was said, from people on the liner, praising to the highest degree the wonders of Orange county, and thanking the people for their gifts. In these gifts, claimed those who received oranges or walnuts, these received oranges or walnuts, these throughout the United States and the entire world.

Claimed to be the largest steamer that has ever encircled the globe, the "Belgenland," chartered by the American Express company, is scheduled to leave New York on December 4, and is to proceed through the Panama Canal, reaching Los Angeles harbor about December 20.

A plan formulated by the late Frank Wiggins, and J. E. Donaldson, Pacific Coast representative for the Express company, is expected to furnish excellent entertainment to the travelers, as well as to give them a lasting impression of the wonders of the Southwest. A tour of the beauty spots of Los Angeles and Orange counties will be made in honor of the guests, it was announced.

Automobiles furnished by the patriotic citizens of the two counties will meet the steamer upon its arrival at San Pedro at 8:30 o'clock on the morning of December 20, according to the plan, and will convey the millionaires and multi-millionaires through the residential districts of Los Angeles, and from there to Hollywood.

After seeing the sights in the "Movie City," the guests will be taken through Pasadena, and from there through Whittier to Orange county, La Habra, Brea, Fullerton, Anaheim and Olive being planned as stops on the journey. Following a luncheon served in Orange County Park, the travelers are to be taken back through Orange and Santa Ana, and are to be taken on a trip through the Bay district. The return will be made by way of the Coast Highway through Long Beach to San Pedro.

In the evening a supper and informal reception will be given on board the liner, the drivers of the cars being the guests of honor.

WED TO SAVE MAN'S LIFE; GETS DIVORCE

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 12.—Bermuda onion growers are facing a seed shortage, according to the United States department of agriculture in a telegram to Representative John Garner.

The American consul at Tenerife, Canary Islands, says the Canaries, which produced practically all of the Bermuda onion seed, have exported 70,000 pounds of seed and that there is no more available for export.

Texas onion growers usually plant about 60,000 pounds of seed each year, but with only 70,000 pounds for the whole world, growers in this district estimate their supply will be reduced to possibly the smallest in recent years because a part of the seed supply is to be sold to backyard gardeners in the cities.

LABOR NEWSPAPERS HELD TAX EXEMPT

Labor newspapers that are engaged solely in the publication of news matter that is of interest to and furthers the interests of organized labor, are exempt from income taxes provided they do not contain advertisements of any kind.

In a ruling received yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rev. B. Goodcell, this policy, he said, was laid down and the 1924 Revenue Act was further construed to mean that what each of the labor organizations may do individually they may do collectively, and that a corporation composed of several labor unions may operate a newspaper devoted solely to the interests of labor and containing no advertisements, the entire expense of publication being paid by the labor unions, and be entitled to exemption as a labor organization.

A sailing ship with a hulk as nearly like the Arabella, which Captain Blood sailed, was as possible to obtain was purchased by Vitagraph and a corps of experienced ship's carpenters set to work remodeling it.

In changing the ship to conform with the lines of the Arabella, which was afloat in 1685, it was necessary to move one of the masts to a point aft of its present location.

When the mast was moved two old coins were found under the butt of the towering stick. One of the workmen versed in nautical lore started to pocket the money. He was halted by the foreman who informed him that it had always been an unwritten law that to launch a ship without a piece of money under the mast was to court all the wrath of the sea, winds and the evil spirits of the long calms. A ship without a piece of silver hidden under the mast was the prey of all bad fortune that could come to a boat. It was not a superstition, it was the truth, for the foreman had seen the bonniest boats that ever carried a stick of sturdiest spruce made pawns of unspeakable fate.

"Never ship on a vessel that has no coin where it belongs," was his admonishment, "and if you ever step a mast be sure that if you find a coin it is a good omen, and put it back. If the vessel has had a bad time of it, it is best to get a new one and put it there."

UNEARTH NAUTICAL LORE FOR "CAPTAIN BLOOD"

An interesting bit of nautical lore was unearthed during the remodeling of a four-masted sailing vessel for the production of Rafael Sabatini's famous novel, "Captain Blood," now showing at Walker's theater.

A sailing ship with a hulk as nearly like the Arabella, which Captain Blood sailed, was as possible to obtain was purchased by Vitagraph and a corps of experienced ship's carpenters set to work remodeling it.

In changing the ship to conform with the lines of the Arabella, which was afloat in 1685, it was necessary to move one of the masts to a point aft of its present location.

When the mast was moved two old coins were found under the butt of the towering stick. One of the workmen versed in nautical lore started to pocket the money. A ship without a piece of silver hidden under the mast was the prey of all bad fortune that could come to a boat. It was not a superstition, it was the truth, for the foreman had seen the bonniest boats that ever carried a stick of sturdiest spruce made pawns of unspeakable fate.

"Never ship on a vessel that has no coin where it belongs," was his admonishment, "and if you ever step a mast be sure that if you find a coin it is a good omen, and put it back. If the vessel has had a bad time of it, it is best to get a new one and put it there."

CHILDS KICKS PRINCE
LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Prince of Wales got his first hostile reception while visiting a hospital here when three-year-old Elizabeth Day—a star patient on account of surviving after a 40-foot fall, refused to be introduced, kicking Wales at his attempt to get acquainted.

An interesting bit of nautical lore was unearthed during the remodeling of a four-masted sailing vessel for the production of Rafael Sabatini's famous novel, "Captain Blood," now showing at Walker's theater.

A sailing ship with a hulk as nearly like the Arabella, which Captain Blood sailed, was as possible to obtain was purchased by Vitagraph and a corps of experienced ship's carpenters set to work remodeling it.

In changing the ship to conform with the lines of the Arabella, which was afloat in 1685, it was necessary to move one of the masts to a point aft of its present location.

When the mast was moved two old coins were found under the butt of the towering stick. One of the workmen versed in nautical lore started to pocket the money. He was halted by the foreman who informed him that it had always been an unwritten law that to launch a ship without a piece of money under the mast was to court all the wrath of the sea, winds and the evil spirits of the long calms. A ship without a piece of silver hidden under the mast was the prey of all bad fortune that could come to a boat. It was not a superstition, it was the truth, for the foreman had seen the bonniest boats that ever carried a stick of sturdiest spruce made pawns of unspeakable fate.

"Never ship on a vessel that has no coin where it belongs," was his admonishment, "and if you ever step a mast be sure that if you find a coin it is a good omen, and put it back. If the vessel has had a bad time of it, it is best to get a new one and put it there."

HOW TO ANSWER BLIND CLASSIFIED ADS
In answering blind addresses (for instance, L. Box 26, Register, or other similar addresses), please be careful to use the address given in the ad. Write the ad as it stands. Letters brought to The Register office do not require stamps. Always inclose your answer in seal.

THE (ALL FORBIDDEN) ADS

If an advertiser who has made application for credit and opened an account with The Register Credit Department in the regular form desires to have any "line" advertisement published continually "until further notice," he may do so by sending a "T.O.R." order to that effect. An advertisement thus begun will appear regularly until countermanded by a T.O.R. order.

OFFICE REPLIES

The Register postage department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish to answer their classified ads. The names and addresses of the patrons are furnished with identification cards, which must be presented at The Register office. For the convenience of the advertiser, the names and addresses of the patrons are not given out except on presentation of box card.

No record is kept of the names and addresses of patrons using The Register postage, and therefore no information concerning these advertisers can be given.

A charge is made for the words "Box A-234, care The Register."

EVENING SALUTATION

The mountain top must be reached no matter how many times we fall in reaching it. The fall is not counted, it does not register; the picking up and going on counts in life.—Flora Howard.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

That Republicans and Democrats of Orange county are thinking along the same lines in relation to the future alignment of parties in the nation was indicated at the Coolidge celebration at St. Ann's Inn last night. The opinion that the time is not far distant when the conservative forces of the country will unite under the banner of a single party which will be the conservative party of the country, while the radical forces will unite under the banner of a second party.

Without doubt the operation of our government along successful lines calls for a two-party system. We cannot have three parties of anything like equal strength and elect a President by the vote of the people. With no party casting more than 50 per cent of the electoral vote, the election would go to Congress. As a matter of arriving at conclusions by the vote of the people, a two-party system is necessary.

Just how soon the readjustment will take place, none can say. The same elements that this year got behind Robert M. LaFollette four years hence may get behind some other leader. It is not likely that LaFollette, by reason of advancing years and failing strength, can ever again take a leading part in a national campaign. At this time there is no other outstanding radical leader who could draw to himself the various radical elements. Such a leader may come forth within the next four years, or eight years or 12.

As was pointed out last night, the fact that Republicans and Democrats alike discern the principles that involve the welfare of the country and, discerning them, put the welfare of their country above the welfare of their parties is a sign of the broad foundation upon which American citizenship sustains the stability of the country.

READY FOR THE DRIVE

Scores of Santa Anans are ready to attend to a community duty next week. They are ready to do their share in putting over the one big drive for funds that is to be held in Santa Ana within the coming year.

There can be but one result—there must be but one. This drive must go through to success. Not less than $30,000 must be raised.

The theory under which the drive is to be made is to give everybody in Santa Ana a chance to contribute to this co-operative charity. Contributions, both large and small, are sought. The purpose is to get before the people of the city the fact that the Community Chest is an all-Santa Ana proposition. If the entire sum were raised by a few, the Community Chest would fail of its purpose.

Thorough organization, a determination to shove the work through to completion as quickly as possible, a proper spirit on the part of the public—these things combined will bring the results that the directors of the Community Chest in Santa Ana have every right to expect.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN JAPAN

What nation uses most electric lighting in its homes? It is something of a shock to Americans to learn that it is the Japanese. In the United States 39,000,000 people live in homes lighted by electricity, and in Japan only 23,000,000; but in proportion to population, the Japs are ahead of us. There are 59 per cent of them using electric lights, and only 57 per cent of us. The Germans, next in order, lag far behind.

This is a good thing to remember, in a country which regards the use of electricity in any form, especially in the form of light, as a symbol of human progress. The electric light originated in America. It was first developed industrially here. Yet Japan has taken up this advanced idea, like many others, and gone ahead of her western competitors.

Light means civilization. It means comfortable reading, and therefore education. It means less eye strain, and therefore better health. Fewer Japanese hereafter will wear eyeglasses, because they have had plenty of light in their homes. America, so rich in water and fuel resources for the production of electric current, should profit by the Asiatic example. It is better to compete in electric lights than in battleships.

MORE CITY MANAGERS

The city manager plan won new victories on election day, the most notable being in Cincinnati, the second-largest city in Ohio. Cleveland adopted the plan two years ago and it has been in effect this year, with results generally satisfactory to the citizens.

The new method of city government has been confined for the most part to comparatively small cities, but its adoption by larger communities is significant. It is recognition of the fact that size has nothing to do with the effectiveness of the plan, and that if it will give a small community better government for the same cost, or as good government at less cost, its benefit to the larger community is likely to be correspondingly greater.

Altogether a couple of hundred American cities are now converted to this modern form of city administration. It is modified in various ways, to suit local taste, but the main purpose of it is always the same—to take city government as nearly as possible out of politics and run the municipality as a business institution, like other corporations.

THE BUSINESS VOCABULARY

Five hundred words, according to researches conducted by the Russell Sage Foundation, make up the working vocabulary of the average American business man. That is not the conversational vocabulary, or the correspondence vocabulary.

It is easy for the stenographer, but rather monotonous for the recipients of business letters. And in view of the intelligence and range of knowledge of the aforesaid business man, it is a remarkable limitation. The average grammar school graduate knows many more than 500 words. A cultured person may have the ready use of several thousand and may recognize several times as many as he uses himself.

No other language has, or ever has had, the richness and variety of the English language. Why be satisfied merely with a small fraction of its wealth, the petty coins of business and social intercourse, used so much that they are worn as smooth as old dimes and pennies?

A rich vocabulary shows a rich mind. Variety is the spice of speech and correspondence, no less than of life itself.

The business man who has many words at his disposal can make his point with force and certainty. He can win attention and respect and make his letters read. The 500-word letter writer often fails of this purpose because every word and phrase is so familiar as to arouse no interest. Even an occasional word so unusual as to perplex the reader may be a good thing, because it makes him stop and pay attention to what he is reading instead of sliding through it with his mind shut.

AIR TRAVEL PROGRESSING

The commercial air services in Great Britain boast that they have been in operation now for five years, and carried 50,000 passengers 4,000,000 miles, with only six deaths. It is a good record, yet hardly good enough as regards safety. Railroad and steamship lines do considerably better than one fatality in about every 8,000 passengers.

Safety, however, is improving right along. The chances of a safe flight are much greater now than they were in the first year of this experimental traffic.

As for the mileage covered and the accommodations furnished, the European air service, and especially the British, a revelation to Americans. Over here, in the land of the airplane, air transportation by common carriers has hardly begun. The Imperial Airways alone, operated from London, covers 1,660 miles a day and is adding 3,000 miles a day. There are several commercial air lines on the Continent.

The price of air travel over there has been reduced to 7 cents a mile. That should appeal to Americans. In fact, it does. They fly when they go abroad. Why are there no such facilities for them at home?

CHINESE CIVIL WARS

China, we have been told often of late, is "rent by civil war." It is not so at all. There has been civil war, now possibly at or near its end, but the country has not been "rent." Generally speaking, it has not been much disturbed.

For war in China is not what war is in America and Europe. An armed struggle there bears no resemblance, except in name, to a great internal conflict like our own Civil War. Wars in China are only a little more disturbing than the politics out of which they spring, and in national politics the Chinese are very little interested.

Their administration is almost wholly local, confined to cities, districts and provinces. The national or federal government is usually but a shadow, in name and authority. And even local government interests them little, as a rule. Let taxation be made unusually burdensome, and they may object. Otherwise they keep the even tenor of their ways. Business goes on about as usual, regardless of elections, successions and wars.

Thus it matters little to hundreds of millions of Chinese what the outcome may be in the present conflict. It merely makes life a little harder for some of them and possibly a little easier for some others. The vast majority continue imperturbably with their own affairs, content that things are no worse.

"Poor, stolid Chinese!" Perhaps so. Yet there are certain advantages, almost unknown to the West, in that they have schooled themselves to patience and resignation. They do not rebel or fight. They submit. Their life seems intolerable to the eager, active, energetic, ambitious, materialistic American. But are they happy? Who knows?

Keep Home Life In Purity

Pasadena Star-News.

A vital asset to this Nation is its pure home life. Without this, there would be not security for the country. Let the American home break down, and American institutions would break down, too. This country could not survive with its homes broken and corrupted. The great citadel of refinement and contentment is in the home. There happiness is entrenched. There the best in men, women and children is developed and manifested.

Whatever strikes at the sanctity and the happiness of the home is an enemy to society and should be disconcerted by all. This country could survive elemental disasters—earthquakes, fires, floods, hurricanes, volcanic eruptions. It could rise from all of these and go on with stout heart. But wreck its homes, and this Nation would be wounded in its vitals. The republic could not endure. Life would not be tolerable.

In every way possible and practicable the sacredness of the home and of home life should be emphasized at all times. Teach it to children. Frown upon crude jokes and derision of the marriage state and of the home. Cultivate respectful treatment of domestic relations. Foster the conviction that there is no form of existence where more desirable, more happy and more satisfying than pure home life, founded upon mutual respect and love.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

INDIAN HERBS

I met a man past sixty the other day, and he told me of a wonderful remedy he had secured from an Indian many years ago. The Indian had explained to him that most of the trouble in the body came from the body itself. That the tissues poisoned themselves, and this medicine, made of native herbs, neutralized and then removed the poison from the system.

And so this man on every occasion that he felt a little bit below par, would stop eating for two days, and take this Indian medicine, which always flushed the intestine. Now what about this in the light of our present medical knowledge? Do your tissues poison themselves or do poisons come from outside in the form of infective little microbes, or germs?

As a matter of fact, some ailments come from outside, such as typhoid, scarlet fever, and so forth, but on the other hand a great many come from within your own body. All this trouble that arises from bad teeth, bad tonsils, sluggish liver, and intestine, is certainly due to poisons manufactured within your own body.

And the point that most investigators believe now is, that it is not so much the microbes or little germs that cause the trouble, as it is the products they manufacture. And what is the treatment? To remove the bad tooth to remove or clean out the tonsil or gall bladder all right, but to go a step further and remove the products that remain in the body even after these offending organs have been removed or cleaned up.

These products remain in the glands and other tissues, and hence in the blood itself, sometimes for months. The Indian's idea of abstaining from food, and then using herbs to rid the body of these poisonous products, is really a great part of the treatment now given by our regular physicians. We are learning a great deal, but much of the old treatment has been proven to be sound.

Why He Won't Be Forgotten

"Socialism is Obsolete"

By John Spargo in The Outlook.

Life is inexorable. If we are instinctively Socialist in it, some of us realists and not mere romantics, we shall not waste time in repining. Still less shall we attempt to ignore the truth. I at least decline to waste time in futile brooding, trying to imagine in the ashes of yesterday's fires the splendid flames that made yesterday glow.

I have a sentimental, reminiscent interest in socialism today—the ashes bring memories of the crackling flames and witching odors—but no more. I know that socialism is obsolete, rendered obsolete by life. So be it. Why should I weep among the ashes while the morning bell calls to the labors of the new day?

Wherever Socialists are numerous enough to be a political force that matters, and especially where they have had to assume the obligations and responsibilities that come with electoral victories, the leaders of the movement have recognized these things.

At the end of 1920, when I was in Sweden, I asked Branting, the Socialist prime minister, what he and his colleagues of the social democratic government proposed to do toward the realization of the socialistic ideal, what distinctively Socialist measures they proposed to carry out. He told me then quite frankly that they did not propose to do anything of the kind.

To keep up the rate of exchange, maintain the volume of foreign trade, keep taxes as low as possible, avoid disturbances at home and friction with neighboring states, and give moral support to well-considered plans for restoring political and economic conditions in Europe—such was the administrative program that Branting outlined.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Page

Saturday afternoon me and Sid Hunt was setting on my front steps and Sid sed, Hay, lets wawk out to the park and see if we can see any chestnuts.

G, all rite, lets hurry up and start before my cuzin Sue comes out, I haff to take that darn kid with me everywares I go, I sed.

And we quick hurried up and started, and jest then who came running out of the house after us but Sue, saying, Ware you going, Igo.

Aw G, cant you stay home and play with kids your own size for once, or can't you? I sed.

No, Sue sed, and I sed, Ill give you 2 cents if you stay home, G wizz wat more do you want?

2 more, Sue sed, I wont stay for less than 4, she sed. 2 being all I had, and Sid sed, O well, I got 2 cents, lets put your 2 and my 2 together and give them to her. Me saying to Sue, O all rite, Ill give you 4 cents if you stay at home.

Give them to me now, Sue sed.

Proving she has a suspicious disposition, and I gave her the 4 cents including Sids 2, and me and Sid kepp on going, me saying, G wizz, aint it fears wat a fears have time you have to get rid of these darn geris?

Aint it the limit though? Sid se. And we kepp on keeping on going, and all of a sudden who ran around the corner after us but Sid's kid brother Bert saying, I'm going with you, ware you going?

Aw G, good nite, wats a use, for the love of Peet, Jimmyn crickets, good nite, can you beat that, me and Sid sed, and Sid sed to Bert, Aw go on back, go on back and Ill give you a cent.

Give it to me now, Bert sed. Sid not having any left and me not either, and Sid sed, Aw, wats your hurry, Ill owe it to you, dont you believe me?

No, you owe me 3 like that alreddy, Bert sed, and Sid sed, Say match more and we wont go at all.

Then I wont either, Bert sed. Wish none of us did, me and Sid getting up a game of cops and robbers and Bert going around to Mommy Simmies with Sue to watch her spend the 4 cents.

Proving its a mistake to exhaust all your capital.
